the plums.

I have seen so much disintegration, I shudder to think it can happen to me too, for isolation can be terribly destructive — lack of any warm, understanding, significant relation.

Tension & anxiety can go only so far without producing changes in one's personality for the worse.

I wish I cd. find a job making things with my hands I like weaving; which brings great peace of mind.

Do you know of any room, or possibly even a light-housekeeping room — inexpensive — near you for rent?

Please let me hear from you as soon as possible.

My very best wishes to you & your mother!

Dear Bob:

Many thanks for your letter + brilliant articles which I very much enjoyed!

I'm now thinking of returning to California, for I must get out of Miami's "Skidrow". In all the time I've been here I've hardly made a friend; altho I've tried very hard, it seems hopeless.

Either they are destitutes starving Americans who have drifted down here to escape winter + expect me to be able to help them economically, + when one can't, turn on their heel without so much as good-bye.

Or they are alcoholics, or mentally unbalanced, or just passing thru, leaving tomorrow.

And I think it wd. be the same here after years, unless I had a good job & cd. move out of
